Im Zuge der Globalisierung sind die Direktinvestitionen der taiwanesischen Geschäftsleute in China rasch gestiegen und die Beziehungen zwischen Taiwan und China haben sich in vielfacher Hinsicht stark verflochten. Was passiert nun in diesem Prozess der sich intensivierenden Interaktion zwischen den taiwanesischen Unternehmern und den Chinesen? Das Ergebnis der vorliegenden Untersuchung zeigt, dass im Zentrum der Beziehungen zwischen den taiwanesischen Unternehmern und den Chinesen Spannungen und Konflikte herrschen und es in vielen Fällen sogar aufgrund des Annäherungsprozesses zu einer immer größeren Distanz und Missverständnissen kommt. Obwohl die Chinesen die taiwanesischen Unternehmer nach wie vor als Landsleute auf Taiwan betrachten und die taiwanesischen Unternehmer ihrerseits auch häufig von der Gleichheit von Sprache und Kultur mit den Chinesen sprechen.

Taipei's quest to become a global city is the key to its urban development. Globalizing Taipei looks at this Asian dragon, a major city in the South China growth triangle and a centre for transnational production, revealing how the development of this capital has received firm state support but is conditioned by international and domestic politics. The book is divided into four parts: economic and spatial restructuring, state and society, realignment, social differentiation and cultural reorientation. Each analyzes the interaction of international, state and local politics in the shaping of the city's urban environment since World War II. All contributors to this edited volume are Taiwan scholars presenting critical insiders' views based on each author's specialization and research focus. Each chapter provides an in-depth consideration of one of Taipei's developmental issues generated by globalization. Collectively they provide broad, insightful and coherent coverage of this crucial time in Taipei's global transmutation.
